There are times in life when things seem to go from bad to worse, to worse... Hopefully, that is not due to incredibly poor decisions or immorality. Even so, circumstances can pile up to escalate pain, trouble and fear. But, our sorrows won't last forever, as there is a redemption and Heavenly home awaiting us. There are incidents and accidents that we "survive" in the meantime.

TV GOES BAD TO WORSE

I do not wish to be a pessimist. As a Christian I believe we are to be positive people, as we are forgiven in Christ, have the Spirit's presence always, and are looking forward to an eternal Home with God! So, how can a Christian have a poor disposition?

However, it is disgusting to see the way the world almost invariably pulls the young toward evil. It seems TV networks now are attempting to incorporate more smut, pornography light, in an attempt to claim dollars taken away by streaming TV. HBO is planning a new series, "Euphoria" aimed at teens with plot elements such as nudity, statutory rape with a 17-year-old trans girl, and overdosing on drugs! Counsel your child as to the wily ways of Satan to sucker them into immorality. Research and show them the "downside" of sin, the consequences. Proudly boycott sponsors!

The above link (I presume you can find it by doing a search for key words) features one of the most compelling presentations on the Origins debate (the debate between Darwinists and Intelligent Design theorists) I have ever seen. I have followed this topic for over 30 years, and I have read many books about Evolutionary theory and the falsifying evidence against it.

Dr. James Tour, a nanotechnology expert, absolutely shames the scientific poop that passes for "fact" in scientific papers and public schools. Make sure your teen and young adult child sees this! It's steeped in scientific terms, but is very clear in its conclusions – that it is disingenuous to call the soft science that is conducted to support the theory factual. You and your children need to know how much fluff is involved in supposedly proving Darwinian theories of the origin of life. Never be ashamed of the Gospel, nor ashamed of being a Creationist!

Blessings!
